

CrimsonLogic Extends Partnership with the AIFC Court and International Arbitration Centre to Launch eJustice System

26 February, 2019

Photos from left: Ken speaking in Astana at the official launch of the new e-justice system.
Ken presenting a memento to Christopher Campbell-Holt (Registrar & Chief Executive, AIFC Court) at the launch ceremony.

On 26 February 2019, CrimsonLogic partners Astana International Financial Centre Court (AIFC Court) and International Arbitration Centre (IAC) to launch Central Asia's first ever eJustice system, as part of Kazakhstan's ongoing drive towards digital transformation.

This system is built using CrimsonLogic's Chrysalis product, which allows for high configurability and flexibility in quickly meeting AIFC's judiciary workflows. It is a one-stop 24/7 online platform that manages the end-to-end electronic processing of legal documents, administration and court hearings. Other features of the system include automatic notifications, calendar updates to the judges and lawyers, resulting in enhanced timeliness, improved resource utilisation and streamlined support for AIFC's litigation and case management processes.